

BE SUPPORTIVE

Provide a nurturing learning environment.

Being supportive is about interacting meaningfully with each student and encouraging growth in a trusting and nurturing environment.

✔ Engage student interest with every lesson.

- Motivates students to put more effort into their work, translating to higher achievement
- Piques students' natural curiosity about the subject matter
- Helps students connect with the "why" of learning

✔ Create an oasis of safety and respect in the classroom.

- Contributes to students' feelings of safety and acceptance
- Helps students feel confident when stepping outside of their comfort zones and when taking risks to meet learning goals
- Allows students to stumble, make adjustments, and get back on track

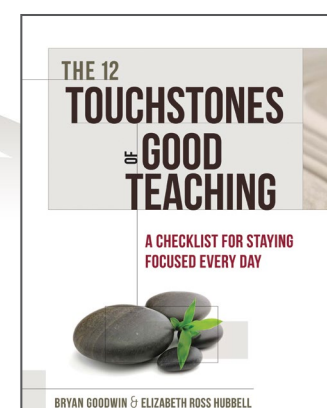

✔ Interact meaningfully with every student.

- Shows students that they are unique and that you care about them
- Helps you find areas of common interest among students, which can be used to build engaging lesson plans

✔ Use feedback to encourage effort.

- Helps students evaluate their performance
- Provides opportunities for improvement when feedback is growth-oriented, specific, actionable, and timely

SOURCE

AVAILABLE AT:
store.mcrel.org